Strategy Description

- The Income Distribution strategy is designed for investors interested in income drawdown while maintaining their principal investment.
- The portfolio is an actively managed portfolio of daily liquid diversified investments that exhibit lower volatility with a higher probability of consistent return outcome on an annual basis. This strategy replaces our previous Diversified and Focused Income strategies.
- At this time, we firmly believe that investors should not focus on yield or income return in this environment of negative real yields. We believe the risks of doing so far outweigh the benefits.

Disclosures: The performance returns shown represent the results of a model portfolio of the investment strategy only and do not represent the results of actual trading of investor assets. The model performance has inherent limitations. Palladium maintains the model and calculates the model performance shown or discussed, but it does not represent actual assets. Thus, the performance shown or discussed does not reflect the impact that material economic and market factors had or might have had on decision making if actual investor money had been managed. While model performance may have performed better than the benchmark for some or all of the periods shown, the performance during any other period may not have, and there is no assurance that model performance will perform better than the benchmark in the future. An investor's actual account is managed by the investor or by an advisor based on the model portfolio, but the actual composition and performance of the account may differ from those of the model portfolio due to differences in the timing and prices of trades, and the identity and weightings of securities holdings. Portfolio performance assumes reinvestment of dividends and capital gains and is net of standard advisory fees payable to Palladium LLC (0.55%) but does not include any other expenses not covered by the advisory fee, which will reduce a client's return. Direct investment in an index is not possible. Index returns assume the reinvestment of dividends and capital gains. Past performance is no guarantee of future results.
